HENEW YORK STORE-RUGSALE TO-L

NOW VOTE AND VOTE EARLY

The Polls Open at 6 O'Clock, and You Should Be There, at Least, by 8.

Here Are Complete Instructions as to Casting Your Ballot and a Full List of the Polling-Places.

This the day of American sovereignty. The American citizen is a king to-day, and will let the world know what he thinks of his public servants. In all cities or towns having a population of 1,000 or more citizens the polls are required by law to open at 6 o'clock A. M. In all other precincts the polls shall open at 8 o'clock A. M., unless the Board of County Commissioners order, upon the petition of twenty citizens, that the polls open at 6 o'clock. The voting in Indiapapolis, under the law, will begin at 6 o'clock this morning.

The polls will close at 6 o'clock P. M. sharp in all cities where the law requires them to open at 6 o'clock A. M. In all precincts in which the polls open at 8 o'clock A. M., the polls must not be kept open after 6 o'clock P. M., nor closed before 6 o'clock P. M., except that, by the unanimous consent of the entire election board, they may be closed after 4 o'clock; provided, all the electors shall have voted, or fifteen nunutes shall have elapsed without a vote having been tendered. A voter in the polls at 6 o'clock P. M. cannot be driven out until he has voted. The law does not permit the polls to remain onen does not permit the polls to remain open after 6 o'clock P. M., and no voter can be permitted to enter the room after that hour, but in case a voter has entered but has not voted when the hour of 6 arrives, his vote should be accepted. Upon the closing of the polls the inspector must make proclamation thereof, and a minute thereof of the time must be entered by the derks on the tally pape

How to Prepare Your Ballot, "Are you ready to vote?" asked one Republican vesterday of another.

"Yes," was the reply, "and I intend to hit the eagle bird hard one tap. That will record my position as to Harrison, Reid, Chase, Shockney, Henry and the plat-

In order that no voter shall make any mistakes, the instructions how to cast a ballot, are again repeated to-day: To vote a straight Republican ticket, stamp once wholly within the large square containing the eagle at the top of the ticket, and nowhere

To vote for persons on other tickets, do not stamp in the large square at the head of any ticket, but stamp once wholly within the small square to the left of the name you want to vote for, in one of the lists of candidates where such

If you stamp in the large square inclosing the eagle and also on any one or more of the small squares opposite names, that is unlawful, and your ballot will not be counted. Stamp lightly and only one time in any square; stamping twice in any one square is unlawful, and your vote would not be counted. Use a blotter after stamping, then wait for the ink to dry thoroughly before folding. See that your ticket is not torn, is free from blots, scratches, pencil marks, drops of water or blur of any kind; that it has no feature which can be construed as a distinguishing mark, either on the face or back of the ticket before folding. AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND-LILLIAN RUSSELL Lillian Russell, assisted by an excellent supporting company, rendered the English version of "La Cigale" (the Grasshopper) at the Grand last night. The plot of the performance is as follows: In the first act the scene opens in the low countries, about twenty miles from Bruges, on the morning of the marriage of Charlotte, the "Ant" (La Fourni)to William, Marton, Charlotte's cousin, has made up her mind on the operatic stage, is known as the Grasshopper (La Cigale), and is the cousin of the Ant. Matthew, the Ant's Dutch uncle, arrives and encourages Vincent Knapps, the schoolmaster's son, to propose to La Cigale, Marton refuses him, and Vincent determines to follow her wherever she goes and be her guardian and watch-dog. The Duke of Fayensberg and Madame Frivolini, of the Italian opera company, now staying at Bruges, arrive with a merry pionic party. The Duchess comes also to the same place to mest the Chevalier Franz de Bernheim, with whom she has a flirtation by way of revenging herself on her faithless spouse. She has nearly been found out by her husband in a situation closely resembling that of the celebrated "School for Scandal" situation, but is saved by his being called away suddenly, and then emerging from her hiding place she insists on the Chevalter pretending to make love to the very first person he. may come across in order to divert suspicien from herself. La Cigale is the first person Franz sees and he falls over head and cars in love with her. The Dake, too. takes a fancy to her, and, at his instance, after she has given the party a taste of her operatio quality, she is offered musical instruction and an engagement with the opera company at Bruges. She accepts and leaves her home for Bruges. In the second act, which is supposed to occur a year later, La Cigale has become a prima donna. traveling in the provinces and making her way to Paris. Her uncle is her acting manager and agent. Vincent is her prompter. and Franz is her lover, to whom she is engaged to be married. A dialogue between the jealous Duchess and Franz is overheard by the Dutch family, muschief enence, they tell La Cigale that Franz is trifling with her, and other accidental circumstances going to prove this assertion, Marton determines to denounce Franz as the lover of the Duchess in the presence of the duke and all his court. In the third and last act Franz owns to the Duchess that his attentions to her have been only firtations, but that he is really madly in love with Marton, La Cigale,

While the Duchess is besitating as to how appears in the ball-room, and under pretense of acting a dramatic scene, denounces the Duchess and her lover Franz. Then, overcome by the excitement of the moment, she faints. In a trance she sees a vision of her old home in the winter, thus realizing LaFontaine's fable and picture of "La Cigale" (the grasshop-per), who, having sung all the summer, when the winter comes craves assistance from the industrious ant. When she awakens the Duke and Duchess are applauding her admirable acting, and all are deceived except her relations, Franz and the Duchess, who whispers to La Cigale that her lover Franz has always been true to her (La Cigale), and supports her to her own private apartments in the palace, where, while the dancing is going on in the Duke's presence, all the necessary explanations are made and accepted. Then Marton, La Cigale, re-enters, the Duchess has an answer for the Duke, and La Cigale, after thanking the unfortunate Vincent for his services, especially in having nobly elucidated the truth, gives her hand to Franz de Bernheim.

Miss Russell is so easily and so thoroughly the leader of all comic opera prime donne, that it is hardly necessary to add any further encomium to that she has received in every city where she has chosen to appear. Several of her numbers were encored, notably the song in the first act where La Cigale gives an exhibition of her vocal powers to prove her titness for the operatic stage. The most prominent member of the support, in a musical way, is Mr. C. Hayden Coffin, who takes the role of the Chevalier de Bernheim. Mr. Coffin fairly divided the applause with the prima donna herself. The part of Matthew Vanderkoopen, the uncle of La Cigale, gave Mr. Louis Harrison abundant chance to exercise that easy, confidential voice of his that puts the audience on good terms with him and with itself from the start. Several very pretty numbers are assigned to the part of Charlotte, and were excellently given by Miss Laura Clement. Miss Ada Dare ably renders the character of the Duchess, a part calling for more of acting than of singing.

Mr. W. C. Carleton, as William, the husband of Charlotte, acquitted himself well. Dancing is a distinctive feature of the opera, Miss Florence Franton executing some remarkably graceful movements. Several ballets are given, the handsomest being that of several little tots of tender years. The orchestra is under the management of Mr. Jesse Williams, for several years leader at the New York Casino.

"DAVY CROCKETT" AT ENGLISH'S. Frank Mayo's company opened at English's Opera-house last evening in "Davy Crockett" to a fair house. The drama is realistic and sensational, yet it is in capable hands, and Mayo's characterization of the peculiar kind of backwoodsman whom Davy Crockett is supposed to represent is a good one. In this line Mr. Mayo is one of the best actors on the stage. The support is good. The performance will be repeated to-night, to-morrow matinee and to-mor-PARK THEATER-WHALLEN & MARTELL'S

COMPANY. Whallen & Martell's Kohinoor Vaudevilles began a week's engagement at the Park yesterday, and gave a good specialty show. The company is a large one, and a majority of the acts are new. Among the individual hits made were those by George Homer; Miss Lizzie Hull, an English vocalist; Kitty Burke, Irish comedienne; Daniel sisters, song and dance performers; Josie Domaine, a soubrette, who was well received; Ferry, the "human frog," and the Ty-bells, whose act is as daring as it is dangerous. There were numerous encores for almost every turn, and the theater was filled at both performances yesterday. The Whallen & Martell company will remain all week. At to-night's performance elechaving been made to get them promptly. EMPIRE-"THE BLACK CROOK,"

The Black Crook Extravaganza Company opened a week's engagement at the Empire Theater yesterday afternoon to a good house. The only redeeming feature about the performance is the specialties that are introduced, some few of which and especially the horizontal bar act of the Bowen brothers are good. The performance would be a good deal better were the "Black Crock" part of it eradicated. This part of it was decidedly amateurish and it didn't take the audience long to become aware of the fact. The apology of stage manager Keenan, who also does the part of "Black Crook," didn't help matters much. To-night there will be two performances, one at 8 and one at 11:80 o'clock, Election returns will be read from the

Charles H. Yale's new "Devil's Auction," a glittering "show" piece, will be seen at the Grand next Friday and Saturday.

The advance sale of seats for Thomas Seabrooke's "Isie of Champagne" will begin at the Grand next Thursday morning. Arrangements have been made to read the election returns from the stages at English's and the Park to-night, as fast as they are received. The "Power of the Press," a stirring melodrama, which is given an elaborate stage presentation, is booked for English's the last three nights of this week. Seats are now on sale for it.

THROUGH A TRESTLE.

Six Men Go Down Into a Eavine with a Train and Are Horribly Mangled.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. HAZLETON, Pa., Nov. 7 .- The trestle apanning a forty-foot ravine at Honey brook broke to-day, precipitating to the bottom ten loaded cars and six men. At noon the men were on their way to their dinner on a train, and while crossing the trestle the timbers gave way, precipitating the trains and men to the bottom. The loud noise made by the cracking timbers and tumbling miners attracted the attention of other workmen, who rushed to the scene. A horrible sight met their gaze as they peered into the yawning abyes. Nearly fifty cet below the surface could be distinguished a mass of debris with legs, arms and other parts of human victims protructing. Willing hands hurried to the assistance of the unfortunate men. Michael Carko was first uncovered. He met a borrible fate. Every boue was broken and his face was crushed beyond recognition. The following were taken out alive: Guiseppe Costellin, foreman, both legs broken and body badly bruised; Andrew Hoxicas, skull cracked and face cut; Michael Regattises, fractured skull, arms and body fatally crushed; Vudani Costeff, cut, bruised and injured in-ternally; John Jodha, arm broken and back injured; John Baraska, chest crushed and four ribs broken; will die. All were removed to the hospital.

Spinners Will Discuss Arbitration. LONDON, Nov. 7 .- While en one hand the master spinners assert that the lockout of spinners is complete, on the other hand the spinners assert that the masters are already giving way. Mr. Mawdeley, secretary of the Amalgamated Association of Operative Cotton Spinners, thinks that 53,000 persons will be idle by the lockout. The total number of spindles engaged upon American cotton in this district is about 27,000,000 and of these the members of the federation employ about 18,000,000. Mr. Mawdsley said to-night that the employes are anxious to avoid the hardship of a struggle that might last throughout the whole winter. They are, therefore, willing to discuss the question of arbitration with representatives of the masters' federation, but with Governor Foraker and Elijah Halford Have a Big Meeting in Huntington.

Governor Chase at the Final Rally Held in Delphi-Outrageous Democratic Bulldozing in Brown County-Other Meetings.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. HUNTINGTON, Ind., Nov. 7 .- The Republicans of Huntington county held a grand meeting to-day. The crowd was immense, but, because of the rain, the speaking was held in the opera-house and rink. Ex-Governor Forsker and E. W. Halford both spoke at both places to enthusiastic andiences. Foraker spoke on the currency and tariff, and Mr. Halford's principal theme was the tariff. Thousands were unable to gain admittance at either place.

Mr. Foraker said: "Cleveland did not make an enviable record for himself while he was President, and I don't believe a man should be President who was a copperhead; neither should a person who hired a substitute, nor one who is not at home in a G.

A. R. meeting. Harrison's administration was pleasing in every respect and will be noted in the history of the country for its prosperity. The confederate constitution prohibits protection, but we are not doing business under it. The boys in blue got after it once on a time and shot it to pieces on the field of bloody battle. We are through with it forever, and I trust the common sense of the American citizens will prevent it ever being brought to the front again, other than as an issue of the Democrats to include in their platform.

And what were the effects of this Democratic legislation we had before the warf We were left in poverty.

We were not able to make a flag of American goods for our noble boys in blue and we could not uniform nor arm them. We were both without money and credit in Buchanan's administration. We tried to float $10,000,000 in ten-per-cent. bonds, but were not able. When New York and Pennsylvania were asked to indorse our money they refused. They were finally floated at 80 cents on the dollar. We are now the happiest people on earth. We are more content than any other people. Our wage-workers have homes and more comforts than any other people. We have the happiest children, most educated children, most money and most comforts. We want a protective tariff, and declare so in our platform. Our candidates stand on that declaration. We want and will maintain enough tariff to make up the difference in wages in Europe and this country. We want to raise wages, rather than lower them. A vote for Republican success is a vote for national presperity, and no matter what the occupation, a vote for personal happiness and Bulldozing Voters in Brown County. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Nov. 7 .- The case of bulldozing veters in Brown county is one of the worst in the State. Some time ago a man named Robertson had an offer to sell a small tract of land on which he had resided for seme time and did so with the understanding that he could rent a house near by into which he could move until after the election. When the trade was consummated the parties refused to allow Robertson to occupy the property they had agreed to rent bim. Accordingly with his family he moved into a tent. Some Demo-Finding they could not do that they filed an affidavit against Rebertson and his son tion returns will be read from the stage be-tween the various acts, arrangements lowed. These were not the only having been made to get them promptly. warrants were also sworn out whom are very poor. The charges in these cases were for assault and battery, and one being for the alleged violation of the election law. The charges are trumped-up ones, and made with a hope that these men, who have always been respected and regarded as honest, would not be able to give bond and would therefore lose their votes. Parties from this city went to Nachville to-day, and will see that the men are not prevented from voting to-morrow.

Probably an Effort to Colonize Hammond. HAMMOND, Ind., Nov. 7 .- The latest campaign trick is alleged to have been played upon fifty-four laborers of Detroit. They were brought to Hammona, Ind., on the pretext that work would be given them. They reached the city Thursday, and when the train stopped the man who piloted the party was missing. They were wholly without funds, and it was necessary to raise a purse to buy supper for the erowd. The men said that when they left Detroit they were to work on a railroad at New Peru, Ind. The man in charge had ticketed them all on one ticket, and individually they did not know they were to leave the train at Hammond until the conductor informed them that that was their destination. The men are very indignant | Hanley, of Williamsport, was the speaker. | Probably Fatal Streke Suffered by a Repubover their treatment. It is said that fortyseven of their number are Democrats.

Democrats Have No Case.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 7 .- The arrest of James Knox, of Ladogs, for alleged violation of the election law, is receiving the condemnation of all respectable citizens of all parties. The Democratic central committee, aided by a well-known Ladoga Democrat, is responsible for the entire affair and now they are sorry they have been led into the case with an irresponsible man as the presecuting witness. This morning Mr. Knox appeared in court and demanded an immediate trial, but the Demogratic central committee entered a plea of not being ready for trial and the case was continued. It is very probable that the case will never come to trial as the arrest was only for political effect.

Shooting at a Democratic Dance.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ANDERSON, Nov. 7 .- A very serious shooting aftray occurred near this city Saturday night. The trouble occurred south of Anperson about five miles, at the house of Peter Rector, where a dance was in progress. Jake Rector and Ike Hoppes were in attendance and quarreled. Rector knocked Hoppes down a couple of times and then the latter drew a revolver and fired twice at his assailant. The shots took effect in the shoulder and through the face. The latter is regarded as very dangerous. Rector is now in a critical condition. No arrest has been made, and the dance, which was so rudely interrupted, proceeded as if nothing happened. The parties are Demo-

The Governor's Last Rally. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

DELPHI, Ind., No v. 7 .- Delphi never saw such a demonstration as the Republicans gave here to-day. It was a soldier demonstration and the veterans came from this and adjoining counties. White county came with a brass band and one hundred soldiers. In the parade there were 723 soldiers by actual count. Each carried a flag and the eight was most inspiring. Chaplain Lozier and Governor Chase were here and delivered addresses. Governor Chase said that he had seen a great many processions during the campaign, but never one as impressive as this. It was headed by four one-legged soldiers on crutches. The Democrats of the county are wearing very long faces.

CERTAIN ADVERTISEMENTS FROM TRADE BIVALS who fear the phenomenal success of

Van Houten's Cocoa in America, contain Intendoes against it Dr. SYDNEY RINGER, Prof. of Medicine at University College, London, Anthor of the Standard "Handbook of Therapenties," who attacky writes as followers "From the careful analyses of Prof. Attribute and others I am satisfied that Messis. Van Houtun's Cocoa is in no way injurious to health, and that it is decidedly more nutritious than other Cocoas.— It is certainly "Pure" and highly digestible.—The quotations in certain advertisements from my book on Therapentics are quite minicading, and cannot possibly apply to Van Houtun's Cocoa."

The false rejection on Van Houtun's Cocoa is thus efficiently repelled, and the very cathority cited in injure it, has thereby bors prompted to give it a very handsome testimonics.

Closing Rally in Fountain County.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. COVINGTON, Ind., Nov. 7.-The Republicans of Feuntain county held a rally at Veedersburg to-day. The erowd was immense, there being no less than five thousand present. There was not room enough in the streets to make the parade. The Hon. John M. Butler and Charles W. Fair-banks addressed the crowd. It was the greatest demonstration held in this county since the famous joint-discussion by Morton and McDonald. The campaign in Fountain county was concluded this evening by a monster meeting in the courthouse at this place to-night. Hon. J. F. and he made a magnificent address. His speech abounded in logic and eloquence. Senator Hawley has done good work for the Republican cause in this campaign.

Griffitha's Closing Speech.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Nov. 7 .- The last speech of the campaign was made in this city to-night by that eloquent Republican orator, John L. Griffiths. The meeting was held in the opera hall, the largest public room in the city. The Republicans turned out in large numbers, many women being present. Griffith was at his best. For two hours he held his audience fairly enraptured, and closed with an appeal for hard work on Tuesday.

Doing Their Shouting Last Night, Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

KNIGHTSTOWN, Ind., Nov. 7 .- The largest political meeting ever known in Henry county was held in this city to-night under the auspices of the First Voters' Club of Wayne township, which organization embraces a membership of one hundred. Hundreds were unable to get into the meeting. At 10 o'clock the city was a bedlam of noise, which promised to continue all night.

Will Do Their Duty in Hamilton County. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. Noblesville, Ind., Nov. 7,-The Republicans of Noblesville and vicinity closed the campaign to-night with the largest and most enthusiastic meeting that has been neld this year. The meeting was addressed by ten local speakers with ten minute speeches each. The city to-night was noisy with enthusiasm, and Hamilton Republicans will do their whole duty to-morrow. Confident at New Albany. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WARSAW, Ind., Nov. 7 .- On Saturday, while the Hon, J. D. Thayer, candidate on the Republican ticket for joint Senator of Wabash and Kosciusko counties, was making a political speech at Packertown, he was stricken with paralysis. His family and Dr. Buckett were immediately summoned from this city. Yesterday he revived sufficiently to be brought home. This morning he lies in a very precarious condition, with the chances twenty to one against recovery. Mr. Thayer has been for years one of the foremost Republicans in the State. He has twice represented this county in the Legislature. There is fear that he will not live until te-morrow.
